THE " PLUGGERS" AGREE TO UNPLUG, And Try the New Telephone Rates for Half a Year -A Stormy Session of the Association-

The Executive Committee Criticised -Telephone Expenses, &c. The meeting of the Telephone Sub-scribers' Association in Lincoln Hall last evening was the occasion for a large turn-out of the business men of the District, and an animated discussion on the report of the executive committee, lasting nearly three hours. Mr. J. S. Edwards, chairman of the committee, read the report. THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE'S REPORT. The report reviewed at some length the proceedings taken by the executive committee up to date, and stated that every member of the association, so far as it could be ascertained, had been true to his pledge to "plug." "The action of the new management," says the report, "in promptly recognizing and dealing with the officers of the association does not indicate an indorsement by the Telephone Company of the attitude of the former manager in the premises." After reciting the facts of the transfer of the Bell telephone franchises from the "District Telephone Exchange" to the "National Capital Telephone Company." it is stated that the committee were unable to obtain any accurate data as to the cost of the original "plant" or outlay. It is estimated that $35,000 was the cost of "plant" to the old concern, for which the new company, as alleged, paid $200,000. The report then says: The present management have abandoned the schedule of rates of January 20, known as the "Maynard Schedule," and in lieu thereof have submitted the following regular charge for connection with the Exchange: By general wire within the limits of Washington and Georgetown, $25 per annum, payable semi-annually, in advance. (The above charge is for maintaining telephonic connection with the Exchange, and includes no part of the cost of transmitting messages.)

SERVICE BATES TO SUBSCRIBERS, $4.50 per 100 calls, in sums of not less than 400, to be paid for when ordered, good for one year. Discounts will be given as follows: On 1,000 calls, to be used in one year, ten per cent.; on 2,000 calls, to be used in one year, twenty-five per cent.; 3,000 calls, to be used in one year, thirtyfive per cent. Special contracts for larger numbers of calls, and for special wires and service, will be made by the company with its patrons.

SPECIAL RATES FOR PRIVATE RESIDENCES. Those having telephonic connection with the exchange at their places of business may have an additional telephone at their residence at $30 per annum, payable semi-annually in advance, and five cents per call in number, not less than 100, payable when ordered and good for one year from that date. Other private residences, by persons not having telephones at their place, of business, $35 per aunum, payable in the same manner, and five cents per call, as above. Calls upon the central office for communication on subjects not pertaining to the company's business will be charged to the subscriber making them. Calls made upon the central office, or upon any officer of the company, for the purpose of making reports that telephones are out of order, or on other necessary business of the company, will not be charged. The company's officers will give any for one communication. Communications will be to the receiver.

For the convenience of its patrons who may deproposes to issue tickets at the rate of $5 per hundred, which will be receivable from the subscribers in payment of dues. The company also proposes to establish stations in convenient places within its territory for the use of the telephone by the public at certain fixed rates. The proposed charges under the head of "Service Rates to Sub-on the committee, but thought they had lost their backbone at the last moment. Mr. Wheatley said that in Baltimore they had private wires for $60 per year, and in Norfolk, where they communicated with cables under deep water, the charges were $11.50 per quarter. STILL DEPIANT.

Mr. Clagett said that at the opening meeting of this association he was inveigled into making some rash assertions. He was, unfortunately, a Washingtonian, and had been used to seeing men back down. The committee was composed of the cream of the business element here. In their report they first say "don't accept," and later on ask that the rates be adopted. He advised all present to "keep the plug in," not to budge an inch, or swerve a hair, and they would find that they were the men wanted by the company. Let the Telephone Company try the plan of the association and for six months keep a record of messages. The telephone was a new thing twelve months ago, and now the people who came forward and helped were told that the more they did the more the company lost. Stick now to this thing, and it will be worth millions of money to this city. Mr. Cochran said he was the glorious minority. He did not sign the report for several reasons. The schedule, which was their ultimatum, was too much like Maynard's, which all had repudiated. He was not a "$25-or-no-telephone man," but wanted to pay a fair price according to the value of the "plant." In this instance the largest assessment made could be duplicated for $20,000. Now, what were these gentlemen entitled to? If they did give $200,000 for the plant, they should be the losers, and not the subscribers. If every subscriber kept his plug in the company would have to come to them. He knew the present rates were extortionate.

Dr. Young moved that the executive committee be authorized to strike out that portion of the report providing for the making of a contract with the company for six months by individuals. Mr. Morrison moved that the plugs be kept in for six months. The company had come down before when the plugs were put in and would come again.

Mr. Greenlees offered as an amendment for the ecommendation of the committee, "That this association maintain its present attitude until acceptable rates are made by the company." The question was then put upon striking out the recommendation of the committee providing for a trial of the rates by subscribers, and the ayes were in a manifest majority.

A PIQUED COMMITTEE. The executive committee thereupon tendered their resignations, which the association declined to accept. A long discussion ensued, which was ended by the retirement of the committee for consultation. Upon their return they submitted a recommendation, making it obligatory upon all members of the association to give the new schedule a trial for six months, which was agreed to. The report of the committee as amended was then adopted. It was then stated that the committee would hold a conference with the Telephone Company to-day, and the meeting adjourned.
